Course Overview

COURSE OUTLINE

This qualification reflects the role of community services workers involved in the delivery, management, and coordination of person-centred services to individuals, groups, and communities.

At this level, workers have specialised skills in community services and work autonomously within their scope of practice under broad directions from senior management.

Workers support people to make change in their lives to improve personal and social wellbeing and may also have responsibility for the supervision of other workers and volunteers. They may also undertake case management and program coordination.

To achieve this qualification, the candidate must have completed at least 200 hours of work as detailed in the Assessment Requirements of units of competency.

The skills in this qualification must be applied in accordance with Commonwealth and State or Territory legislation, Australian standards, and industry codes of practice.

No occupational licensing, certification or specific legislative requirements apply to this qualification at the time of publication.

UNITS AND VOCATIONAL PLACEMENT

To obtain a successful completion a total of 20 units needs to be completed.

- Twelve (12) core units and Eight (8) elective units.

In addition to the completion of the units a minimum of 200 hours vocational placement is required to be completed within the workplace. If you are already employed and working in the role, evidence of employment along with a supervisor sign off will support the assessment process.

The average completion for this qualification is 12 - 24 months.

ARE THERE ANY ENTRY REQUIREMENTS?

There are no formal entry requirements applicable to this qualification.

It is recommended that students hold a minimum of Certificate III level qualification and have experience within the community services industry.
